Chapter 26 of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Code provides that the use of parkland for non-park purposes may be approved upon a finding that there is no feasible and prudent alternative to the use of this land.

The Austin Clean Water Program, on behalf of the Austin Water Utility and the Public Works Department, is proposing to relocate and replace portion is of the existing inverted wastewater siphon crossing Little Walnut Creek just west of the Waynesburg Cove.

The wastewater siphon will be replaced with an adequately sized inverted siphon and associated inlet and outlet structures to help the overflows and failures of the existing Waynesburg Cove inverted siphon within the parkland. This project will also replace approximately 1,350 linear feet of 8-inch diameter wastewater pipe, manholes, service connections, and other appurtenances outside the parkland.

Approval of the use of parkland is made on the condition that all restoration is completed in accordance with the Standard Specifications and Construction Standards of the City of Austin and the Parks and Recreation Department's "Construction in Parks Specifications". The Austin Water Utility is required to pay all costs associated with the restoration and tree mitigation will be included as part of the site restoration process.

There is no feasible and prudent alternative to the use of the dedicated parkland which includes all reasonable planning to minimize harm to such lands. The dates of public notification in the Austin American-Statesman were December 16, 23 and 30, 2007.
